

ESPlus strengthens sales and service team

CCTV and retail security system specialist ESPlus has strengthened its sales and customer service team with the appointment of Matt Murton as Business Development Manager.

Matt, who has a background in software solutions, joins ESPlus from Checkpoint Systems.

"ESPlus is well known as an installation and service company but one of my key aims is to raise the company's profile as a leading supplier of retail tagging solutions," explains Matt.

"ESPlus is the exclusive distributor for a number of important products in this market, including the Swiss-made tagging systems from Je-Tec, offering fully-integrated solutions for both installers and direct to retailers."

With his background in software solutions Matt is well placed to help customers realise the benefits of the Argon-Net system which sits at the heart of the G-Tec hardware, including its range of antennae and tags.

"Providing retailers with the next step beyond simply detecting attempted thefts, Argon-Net delivers valuable new functions such as footfall counting and remote, automatic reporting."
